

Privacy Policy

Shep mobile game

This document describes our (Tamau Brus) privacy policy regarding the data we collect in the mobile game Shep.

Data we store

We do not store any data on our own servers. Some of your data is stored on your mobile phone, some on google/apple servers.

Data stored on local machine

Data like your highcore, in-game items bought in shop and current inventory are stored on your local machine, on which you play the game. This data is not shared with any servers. To delete this data, remove the game from your machine.

In some versions of the game, the list of items, this data can be shared with your app store provider in order to allow your progress in the game to be connected with your app store account and persist on different machines. Data, shared with app-store provider, can be deleted via your app-store account.

Data stored by your app-store provider

In addition to the data mentioned in the previous paragraph, your app-store provider also stores information about your in-app purchases. To access or delete this data, please refer to your app-store provider.

We do not separately store the details about your in-app purchases, but rather access it via your app-store provider.

Data from adds

Data from adds in the game (number of adds displayed, number of clicks on the adds) are shared with our adds provider.

Usage of your data

All the collected data is used just for the game to work. The data from adds is used by our add provider.