

Terms of Service

Shep mobile game

Here is a brief document, describing the terms of service and usage of mobile game Shep.

Intended usage

Shep mobile game is a mobile game, intended for casual gaming experiences. Intended usage does not exceed more than 2h per day. Intended usage includes:

- tapping the screen to avoid the incoming rocks and cats in game
- collecting in-game coins
- spending in-game coins on in game items
- using in-game items
- watching ads
- using google's IAP to purchase in-game coins and remove ads
- playing with friends

Safety

Always be sure, the environment in which you plan to play the game is safe. Do not play the game while driving, walking or doing sports.

Violation of intended usage

Actions listed below do not represent intended usage and are classified as violations of intended usage. In this case, the developers of the game can block you from playing the game:

- cheating

Liabilities

Developers and owners of the game are not liable for any damage, done by playing the game. We are not liable for the death of your braincells or broken phones.